

Master Competitive Sourcing

The President has identified Competitive Sourcing as one of his five management objectives to enhance government effectiveness.

The Competitive Sourcing Seminar is an examination of commercial activities to determine the most cost-effective and efficient method of acquisition. Commercial activities are defined as those activities resulting in a product or service that could be obtained from the private sector.

Attention to competitive sourcing is imperative as the government acts to address the human capital issues associated with the retirement bulge and to ensure that vital services and products continue to be provided to the public while integrating knowledge capture and management systems into the government of the future.

Expect These Key Results

- *Examine the legal framework and regulatory requirements that underpins this initiative, including the FAIR Act
- *Identify and explore in depth the various approaches in meeting OMB standards for success including A-76 cost comparison, streamlined cost comparison, direct conversion, privatization, and joint partnerships
- *Understand the Performance Based Service Contracting process and development of Performance Work Statements and Statement of Objectives to support this process
- *Address human capital, labor relations, and socio-economic issues related to the successful implementation of this initiative

Who Should Attend

Those individuals who are tasked to lead, manage, or conduct competitive sourcing activities in their organization.

When and Where

Jan 12 - Jan 14, 2004 at WMDC in Denver

Learn more and register online at <http://www.leadership.opm.gov/content.cfm?cat=CS01> or call 304-870-8008

If you would like your email address excluded from future mailings, please go here:
<http://www.leadership.opm.gov/guestbookremove.html>